STOCK DEALS ONLY OF AVERAGE VOLUME

Scattering and Comparatively Light Operations Open Week on the Exchange.

Only an average volume of orders had accumulated over the week-end holiday, and trading on the Washington Stock Exchange today was scattering and comparatively light. Washington Gas was the most active stock, fifty shares selling at 77%. Mengenthaler Linotype appeared to be in good demand, and sold up from 214% to 215 on sales of nineteen shares. The other sales from the stock list included twenty-six shares of Federal National Bank at 135, the bid price.

The Washington Loan and Trust Com-pany has declared its eighty-eighth regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable August 1. The books will be closed from July 24 to August L. both dates inclusive. Announcement has been made that a ern Bank will be opened at Fourteenth and Church streets next Thursday. The opening of this branch is the result of the policy of the directors of the institution, who have been considering the proposition for weeks J. Selwin Tait, president of the Washington and Southern Bank, in discussing the outvaritages of its location said

I have had my eye on that old-estab-shed business locality for several years as being a very inviting one for the establishment of a branch bank. The nearest bank to it is on U street, and in the present day, except for the existence of some great overriding rea-son, proximity, when identified with equally efficient service, usually set-tles the question of where the bank ac-count shall be kept. Proximity in bank-ing, in fact, leads to business.

The establishment of a bank in any business community can, therefore be relied upon to stimulate business in that locality. For this reason I look ferward to renewed business activity in that section of Fourteenth street from the opening of the new branch. An establishment of this kind, with its An establishment of this kind, with its advisory board of local business men of high standing, develops local business. Where it can be done with a proper admixture of prudence and liberality, the money in the bank is losned out in that neighborhood, as is done at the Center Market branch. If the demand is greater than the local liberal supply, the main office furnishes the funds needed. In this way business is nourished with the capital it needs, and the entire community is greatly bene

Condolences to Widow.

The news of Justice Lurton's death came as a great shock to the President, who esteemed him highly. This morning the President sent the following telegram to the widow:

"Our deepest sympathies go out to you in your bereavement. The country has lost a gifted and honorable ser has lost a gifted and honorable servant, whose memory it will always honor, and I am sure that my feeling is the feeling of the whole country."

Secretary of War Garrison, it is believed, would welcome the appointment to the Supreme Court. A lawyer by profession and a jurist by experience, he is said to have the ambition of all lawyers to become a member of the lawyers, to become a member of the highest tribunal in the country. Be-fore his appointment to the Cabinet he was vice chancellor of the Cabinet he was vice chancellor of the State of New Jersey, a position formerly occupied by Mr. Justice Pitney.
